

Women Empowerment

women empowerment is the process to grant, equal access to fundamental right, equal participation in society and equal opportunities to live independently.

A civilized society provide fundamental right to all human being without gender discrimination. Women should have access to education, health care and employment.

An educated, healthy and financially independent women can understand their worth and values. This lead them towards self-confidence and they took their own decision of their life instead of depending on other opinions.

As women are the strong pillar of a society that's why their equal participation is mandatory.

it is quite appropriate that you wrote examples from Islamic history

During the life of the prophet Muhammad (SAW), he took their women opinions and then follow them. On the other hand, women born free to live their life Independently. Men can advise her but can't control her. If women had given self confidence, they would have been tak wisest decision in their life.

There are many example of strong women in the History as Hazrat Hadija, Fatima Jinnab, Malala Yousuf and many other. It is concluded that, women empowerment is the equal access of opportunities, rights and participation in the society.
