History have filled with such people who begun their life from most difficult situations, but after go ahead their names added well-known people of the world. Similarly, success, respect and fame never given to you on plate, only money can given to you on plate. But for that, only one condition is required, that is you should have your ancestor's property then you will get wealth. Moreover, via wealth you can only buy worldly accessories, but you can not buy happiness. Sometimes for human, it takes decades to earn respect but to earn humiliation and being controversial only one movement is enough.
