Q: Translation:

History is filled with such successful people, who started their lives in extremely difficult conditions but later on emerged as world's successful and famous personalities. Success, Respect, and fame are not handed to you on a silver platter. They are earned. Only money can be handed to you. Even for you to have money, one condition is necessary, which is that your ancestors should have ~~money~~ property. Money cannot buy happiness but only materialistic things. It takes years to earn respect, but only seconds to lose it.
