Translation.

History is filled with such kind of successful people who started their lives with difficult time, but they succeeded in their lives. Success, respect and popularity never give you in one plate, just only wealth give you in plate. For this, One condition is necessary that your forefathers should have a large number of properties, so in this way you will get it. With money you can buy world's pleasure but you cannot buy happiness. Sometimes, many centuries required to earn respect, but just one moment is enough for disrespect and to become a controversial.
