History has a lot of successful people whose lives started with extreme difficulties, but moving ahead they became one of the most successful and renowned people of the World.

Success, respect, and popularity never come with ease. It is only wealth that can be granted easily, even for which there is a condition that the wealth must be ancestral.

With ~~with~~ ^{wealth}, you can buy worldly luxuries, but not happiness. At times it takes centuries for a man to earn respect, but just a moment to earn disgrace.
