One night a man named Abu Ben Adhem suddenly woke up from dream. He saw an angel writing in a gold book in a dim light.

He did not feel fear for the angel was peaceful. The man asked about her writing. The angel replied that she is taking the names of pious people. The man asked if his name was among them, but it was not.

The man requested to be listed among those who love their fellowmen. The angel departed. The next night, the angel returned, showing his name written among those blessed by God's Love.
