The True Path to God

One night, Abu Ben Adhem awoke from a peaceful dream and saw an angle in his moonlit room writing in a golden book. Unafraid, he asked what he was writing. The angle said, "Name of those who love God." Abu asked if his name was there. The Angle said, "No." Abu requested to be listed as one who love others. The next night, the angle returned, and Abu's name topped the list.
