

38656-Shina-067

English Translation Test-1

History is filled with such references of successful people, who began their life with very difficult circumstances but later on they became really successful and renowned personalities of the world. Success, Respect and fame can not be given to you easily, the only thing which you can get without struggle is wealth. That too must have one condition, that your ancestors should have property, only then you can get fortune. You can buy worldly pleasures from money but it can not bring happiness. Sometimes, it took decades to earn honour; however, it takes only a moment to become disrespectful or being controversial.