

History is full of people who started their life ^{with} ~~from~~ difficult situations but later they succeeded and became one of the famous people. Success, honour, and fame never come easy to you, only money can come easy to you only if your ancestors ~~had~~ had it. You can buy materialistic things with money but not happiness. Sometimes ~~a person~~ ^{for a person} it takes decades to have honour but only a moment to be dishonoured or have conflict.
