Q:

History is full of examples of people who started their lives in worst circumstances but ultimately they became successful and etched their names among the greats. Success, honour and fame are not served to anyone on a ~~single~~ silver platter.

~~Only~~ Wealth can be served on a silver platter only on the circumstances of inheriting from one's ancestors. Even a handful of ~~dry~~ bread, when earned honestly, can give more satisfaction than stolen riches. Sometimes a man takes eons to earn respect but takes a single moment to disgrace oneself.

History is replete with such successful people who began their lives in extremely difficult situations, but with time, they became successful and famous personalities. Success, respect, and fame cannot come to you on a platter; only wealth can be bestowed upon you if you have ancestral property. For this, it is also imperative that your forefathers have left you with some property, only then you can gain wealth. With wealth, you can buy worldly possessions, but you cannot buy happiness. Sometimes, it takes many years for a person to earn respect or fame, and it takes only a moment to lose it by becoming involved in a dispute or by committing a shameful act.
