

Translation:-

History is full of renowned individuals who began their lives in the most challenging circumstances, yet they moved forward and became some of the most successful and well-known figures in the world. Success, respect and fame are never served on silver platter but wealth can. There is only one way to it which is to be born with a silver spoon in one's mouth. One can buy worldly comforts from money but it can never buy happiness. Sometimes, it takes decades to earn respect and a single moment is enough to destroy it all.
