History is replete with such successful people who began their lives in extremely difficult situations, but with time, they became successful and famous personalities. Success, respect, and fame cannot come to you on a platter; only wealth can be bestowed upon you if you have ancestral property. For this, it is also imperative that your forefathers have left you with some property, only then you can gain wealth. With wealth, you can buy worldly possessions, but you cannot buy happiness. Sometimes, it takes many years for a person to earn respect or fame, and it takes only a moment to lose it by becoming involved in a dispute or by committing a shameful act.

The history is full of such successful people, who started their journey from a very hard point of life, but later on they became well-known personalities. Wealth can be inherited but success, fame and respect are to be earned. Wealth can buy essentials of life but not happiness. It takes years for ~~res~~ honor to earn but only one moment for disgrace.
