English Précis and Composition Test-4

Name: Ammar Yasir

Q.

Question #1

A)

Punctuation

It was almost midnight when the young scholar returned to his rooms. He had left them in a state of revolt: piles of books lay like islands in a turbulent sea; papers fluttered on the floor as if impatient to be read; and on the desk, a single lamp burned its halo, warming a photograph of his grandmother which seemed to smile even in such disorder. "Who would have thought she once peddled tales to children in the village," he wondered. Would she have laughed at his neat theories, written now in the margins of a book?

Q. - Question #2

Voice

B) Narration

John greeted Sara 'Good. Afternoon' and expressed his acknowledgment to her occupation in books. He insisted her to take a small break and join them for a walk along the river. Sara responded in negative because her exams are near, making every minute crucial. Frustrated, John stated that ~~exam~~ the examinations steal the joy of youth and was surprised for Sara's endurance to this constant pressure. Sara answered that not only does she work for examination but also the discipline and knowledge through sincere study. Upon this, John replied that life is not all about books and seriousness, as a weary mind grows dull and unproductive.

Sara agreed and added a contrary statement that she believes temporary weariness is a small price for the satisfaction of achieving what one has set his heart upon.
