Q: 01 Punctuation

It was almost midnight when the young scholar returned to his room. He had left them in a state of revolt; Piles of books lay like islands in a turbulent sea, papers fluttered on the floor as if impatient to be read, and on the desk, a single lamp burned its halo warming. A photograph of his grandmother, which seemed to smile even in such disorder, who would have thought, she once peddled tales to such children in village. He wondered, "Would she have laughed at his neat theories written now in the margins of a book?"
