Question #07

Translation.

Literature is not about words, it reflects men experiences and emotions. When a poet or writer starts writing, he writes about his era; and left a memory for new generation. Our great Poets including Ghalib, Iqbal and Faiz not only did poetry but write a whole civilization. Unfortunately, today's young generation is not connected with books and busy with social media. If we do not work on our literature, we will lose our identity. Literature is a way that connects past with present and present with future. The need is to motivate the young generation to read and introduce our great writers and poets to them so that they get connected with their base.
