Question #7

Translation

Literature is not merely a game of words, but it is a mirror of human experiences and emotions. When a poet or a writer writes, he paints a picture of his era, leaving a sign for forthcoming generations. Our renowned poets, such as Ghalib, Gybal, and Faiz, have not merely said couplets, they have framed a soul of complete civilization into words. Regrettably, today's generation is going far from books and is lost in the hustle of social media. If we do not keep our literary traditions alive, we will loss our identity. Literature is the only bridge that connects past to present and present to future. The only need is that we inculcate the habit of reading among the youth and appraise them of our outstanding writers and poets, so they remain connected to their roots.

5

Question #3

Comprehension

1) Answer

X

The expression "time diseases" refers to the commonality of various ills by highlighting that all these diseases are deadlier. They gravely impact heart, skeletal system and vital organs. Also, these diseases disturb mental health by destabilizing psyche.

raising the urge of drugs, and leading to nerve blockage and exhaustion.

2) Answer

The prime reason due to which modern man suffers is that he has lost trust in God's authority. He only believes on what is visible. Therefore, as soon as he loses connection with God, he starts suffering with his fate.

Everything around him starts bothering him be it the world, his work, his fellowman, or his own self.

3) Answer

The best cure to treat all these ills is that man starts making his connection with God. With his firm belief, he will identify the pattern on which God has created him.

Moreover, these ills can also be cured if man stop overburdenizing himself with all the work he do against his whim just to fit in today's highly calculated world.

4, Answer

3 The last sentence discusses the split personality of modern man. He has developed a mental health issue due to domination of his voracity as well as fear of life. All this undermines his trust on God and centers his everything around the technical world.

Question # 2

Precis Writing

Title: London : Society of ³Equals ✓

5 London is best described as true society. It is because people in London are solely judged based on their manners, wit, and talent. Contrarily, in other provinces, individuals are valued on the basis of their wealth, influence, and land.

Moreover, people's behaviour towards individuals is based on their financial status, social standing, and connections, showcasing their servility and arrogance. However, London allows people to fully their based on their talent. It, indeed, provides space to people to express their views without fear of being judged based on their class and wealth.
