

Mock 1:

Natural disasters as tests of national resilience

Outline

1. Introduction

Thesis Statement: Natural disasters reveals the strength of a nation's governance, economy and social fabric; they test how effectively a country absorbs and recovers from shocks.

2. Natural disasters

- a. Earthquake
- b. Droughts
- c. cyclones
- d. Floods

3. Natural disasters as test of national system

- a. Test of governance and institutional response
- b. Test of economic stability
- c. community solidarity and preparedness.
- d. Test of environmental management

4. Policy measures to enhance Resilience

- a. Strengthen NDMA and local disaster management bodies
- b. promote afforestation
- c. promote community-based preparedness
- d. Enhance cooperation among government, military and NGO's.

5. Lessons from Natural disasters

- a. Expose weak planning, corruption ~~to~~ and poor coordination
- b. Highlight need for natural disaster-resilient infrastructure
- c. Strengthen public institution and build long term community resilience.

6. Conclusion

Natural disasters such as floods, droughts, earthquakes and cyclones are inevitable force of nature that challenge the strength of a nation. These disasters cause immense human and property loss. It shows how effectively ~~the~~ a nation response to these disasters. It also test a country's ability to respond, recover and rebuild. A nation's true resilience depends on how effectively its institutions work, people withstand these shocks and emerge stronger from them. A resilient is the one that transform such challenges into an opportunities to reform, learning from past and build a strong future.