

Question No 2.

Title: Disadvantages of renewable energy sources.

General assumption made in the Public is that by shifting from non-renewable to renewable energy sources, we have started ^{saving} ~~healing~~ our Planet. However, green revolution is itself causing a serious damage to the Planet. The expensive equipment required for renewable energy generation comes at the cost of utilizing rare-earth minerals extracted through Poor Countries, ultimately destroying their land. Moreover, production of all the apparatus required for said energy also emits carbon. While having limited lifespan, it either requires recycling - further carbon emission or turns into waste, contributing to pollution. Additionally, fossil fuels are required to employ this equipment, further adding the harm rather than healing.

In this regard, universal modesty and efficiency is required to truly address this issue rather than adding more detrimental materials.
