

English Essay:

Notes Respectfully! currently I am still in the process to learn essay more. Therefore, only outlines of the following essays are given below to be checked and marked. Thanks!

1: Forced marriages in Pakistan: Causes and Consequences:

1: Introduction

1.1 Thesis Statement

Among numerous issues, Forced marriages poses a serious threat to the contemporary social structure of Pakistan which is caused by illiteracy, divergence from Islam, Honours and absence of justice which ultimately results in inequality, destruction of women's consent, increase in suicide rates and socio-economic consequences.

2: Forced Marriages in Pakistan, a Contemporary Issue

3: Causes of Forced Marriages

3.1 Illiteracy, a threat to social structure

- i- Destruction of family structure
- ii- Impact of illiteracy on decision making
- iii- Case in point - More than 2000 cases recorded in Balochistan alone.

3.2 Divergence from Islamic Teachings

- i- Traditional mode of conduct
- ii- Acceptance of Rule and News without investigations
- iii- Qura'an and Hadiths regarding Marriages and women's Rights.

3.3 Role of Honour in forced marriages

- i- Traditional Man and his respect for Honour
- ii- Torturing women in the name of Honour.
- iii- Every second women being ~~tort~~ tortured in Pakistan in the name of Honour. (Report).

3.4 Absence and/or delayed justice and its impact on forced marriages.

- i- Justice and women's Rights.
- ii- critique: Justice in the hands of men; A Patriarchal judicial system.

4: Consequences of Forced Marriages

4.1 Human inequality and a Rise in Patriarchy.

- i- Women: A depressed and oppressed creature.
- ii- Women as a dependent.
- iii- Reference: Pakistan's position in world's inequality ranking

4.2 Destruction of women's consent and its Offense in Islam.

- i- Role of respect for opinion in the light of Islam.

ii- Heartbreak and its psychological impacts on one.

iii- Depressed consents from generation to generation.

4.3 Rise in the rates of suicide

i- Psychological impacts, such as depression, tension and anxiety.

ii- Forced marriages and its impacts on hopes.

4.4 Social and Financial consequences:

i- Termination of Education due to Forced marriages.

ii- Ostracism and Shame.

iii- Perpetuated poverty.

5. Conclusion.

The Essay:

Forced marriage, a cancerous threat to the social structure of Pakistan, is the one which spoils families, distracts societies, vanishes hopes, kills consents and ultimately, results in social destruction. Forced marriage is defined as a nikkah without the consent of particularly woman and sometimes man. It is mainly done due to patriarchal nature of the society, where man decides the future of the couple without even informing them. It is an era in which technology plays a crucial role, where a tweet can change the structure of planet earth, where one touches the skies without moving, but unfortunately, due to traditional nature of the Pakistani society, forced marriages still prevail and kill hopes. It had been a very old phenomenon which exterminated in many societies due to advancement intellectual wisdom. Among numerous issues, forced marriages poses a serious threat to the contemporary social structure of Pakistan, which is caused by illiteracy, divergence from Islam, Honours, and absence of justice which ultimately results in inequality, destruction of women's consent particularly, increase in suicide rates and socio-economic consequences.