

Q2 Precis:

Renewable Energy is the only source in the people's mind to overcome pollution. The vehicles, industries, wind turbines, etc., cause pollution. To clean the environment, massive amount is required.

Electrical vehicles can be used to avoid emission, but in reality, their batteries emit more carbon in the environment. Similarly, wind and solar power, which are considered as "zero emission", are just a slogan. The emission of toxic waste of it, pollutes the environment badly. The slogan of green label is not implemented in real life. As the true path to sustainability demands restriction, effectiveness, and systemic unpretentiousness.
