

Title:

Renewable energy: "Myth to Zero emission"

word count

Original passage: 350

Precis: 115

Renewable energy has been presented as a panacea of all environmental problem and to achieve net zero carbon emission. But it is exacerbating the problem. Many countries have deteriorated their environment for production of green energy. The clean energy producing vehicles, solar panel and wind turbine are dependent on fossil fuel and produce toxin after a specific time period. This makes "Zero emission" an illusion. Technology has turned environment into marketing interprice by using green label.

Sustainability can be achieved through collective efforts and restrain not by further industrialization. Renewable energy is an other cure for planet.

to write one verse of poetry just as Ghalib did he would help less. Because thinking and creativity are two different things. Creativity results from revelation. Thinking emerges from mind. The status granted to Ghalib can not be achieved by mere reading and hard work rather it was an example of unprecedented wisdom and kindness. This is the reason that his poetry affects heart after centuries as it used to do in his age.
