Q2. A profitable success?

When Dexter's cargo reached Newcastle, England, luckily a miner's protest stopped local coal production there. It resulted into coal shortage in England. Resultantly, Dexter's cargo was sold for a massive profit.

Q3. What does the author imply about the relationship between luck and intelligence in Timothy Dexter's success?

The author implies a significant relation between luck and intelligence in Timothy Dexter's success. Intelligence is the foundation of business, but luck is an important factor in someone's life. Having good luck sometimes overrides intelligence and helps one achieve success.

Q4. How does Dexter's repeated success in turning mockery into profit challenge conventional ideas about business wisdom and education:

Business wisdom and education are basic factors of business. Dexter's repeated success does not challenge conventional ideas to great extent, as Dexter has formal education and plenty of confidence. His confidence helps him make decision, as having confidence in oneself is key to success. Contrarily doubts lead to distraction and failure.

5. What can be inferred about human perception of foolishness and genius from the way Dexter's rival reacted to his achievements?

Success depends upon confidence, wisdom and ~~luck~~. Someone's success is seen as a result of foolishness to haters. ~~Dexter's rival reacted to his achievement as his foolish decision, but in actual, it was his confidence and calculation he~~

The Deception of Green Energy

Renewable energy: A great paradox

In modern campaigns, renewable energy has been advertized as a solution to human suffering and anti-dote to fossil fuels. Proponents of renewable energy are seen as a guarantor of planet healing. In fact, beneath this fact lies a paradox: Green revolution is itself a way to catastrophe. Renewable energy technology requires rare earth metals. Use of rare earth metals in renewable energy sources requires mining practices, resulting into erosion of vegetation and chemical pollution. Similarly, batteries in electric vehicles emit more carbon in their production phase and contribute to electronic waste after their limited lifespan. Likewise, composites used in turbines are non-recyclable and solar panels deteriorate after decades of service contribute to pollution and ~~remain~~ dependent on fossil fuels for transport and assembly. Thus, the whole obsession with renewable energy has turned into marketing enterprise. The best solution to sustainability is not renewable energy, but restraint, effective and efficient system.

Humanity, instead of healing the Earth through renewables, is inflicting new wounds under the guise of progress.
