Q21 Precis:

Title: The Glossy facade of Renewable Energy.

(Renewable energy has been presented as a vital antidote to the traditional fossil fuel in public's view.) Politicians, corporations and environmental activists use fancy and deceptive terms like carbon neutrality as they are some sort of surety bond to planetary healing. Behind the curtain of solar panels, wind turbines and electric vehicles, the extraction of rare earth minerals - cobalt, lithium - from resources are done by traditional mining techniques affecting the world's poorest regions stripping off their vegetative lands with poisoned chemicals drainage drain in the name of sustainable materials. Moreover, the manufacturing of massive electric batteries for electric cars are being glorified as eco friendly so as the wind power turbine blades, but in reality their life cycle from production to carriage to recycling and disposing off; all dependent on fossil fuels that act as nothing but an undercovers tax to the environment resulting in its further degradation. The green labels are more of a marketing tactics rather than any mindful act, just wounding our planet differently. The true path demands efficiency and systematic humility rather than another wave of industrial exploitation.

Q7: Translations

~~Translating Urdu professor claims~~

If any urdu professor claims that he understands Ghalib's poetry and can interpret the essence and spirit of Ghalib's poetry, then there isn't any doubt that he possessed exceptional understanding. But if it is requested to write any of the one verse of just like the Ghalib's then he would be helpless because intuition and creativity writing is entirely different. One is the intellectual characteristic while other is a sort of revelation. The level Ghalib achieved was uncommon minds, and that's the reason that even in today's time his poetry rule people's heart just like during old days of his life.
