

Q-2) (1) INTRODUCTION

"Democracy is the best revenge of Dictatorship."

— Pakistan Peoples Party's slogan

In Pakistan, political, cultural, and democratic system evolved through times. Pakistan democratic system and political system faced several martial laws several time in which constitutions were created, abrogated, and removal of democratic government. However, in 1999, a democratic government was dethrown by military coup, disrupted democratic system and constitutional suspension. In addition some major steps were taken such as 18th amendment and reversed some clauses of 8th amendment.

2) Political system of Pakistan

relate your headings to the qs statement

Pakistan's Political system remained volatile since its existence. There has been existing huge differences between political parties and military institutions.

A three major tenure served by the military coups in different span of time. However, the political system remains is still not sustained, where political parties and institutions have huge differences — Pakistan: search for stability —

Maleeha Lodhi

3) Pakistan's Political culture

Pakistan's political culture has been tensed, full of differences, and self-esteemed. The starving feelings to government, rigging in elections, and securing support from powerful institutions further weaken the democratic processes. Due to that the country always experiences political instability and lawlessness.

4) Constitutional Developments that shaped Democratic Continuity and Governance

There are several constitutional developments happened in the past that played a major role in continuity of democratic system. The famous constitutional development, 18th amendment that stop the way of military coups, and constitution suspension. ✓ It did a great work in formation of prolong democratic practices.

18th Amendment

- 1) Suspension of constitution is declared a high treason.
- 2) Took away power from President in suspension of national assembly.
- 3) To give provincial autonomy that strengthen the federation.
- 4) Gave the right of free trial to the suspects.

short and incomplete answer.

5) Conclusion

Pakistan's political and democratic systems evolved over time. Along with it also faced many setbacks from non-political groups that derail the democratic processes. military add more arguments.

a 20 marks answer should have around 15 arguments and be on 7-9 pages.

MON TUE WED THU FRI SAT
○○○○○○○

Date: ___/___/20___

06
rules weaken the Political and democratic system in the country - They also filled mistrust in people ; created gap between people and Political Parties and Institutions that also further low democratic values. However, some Constitutional developments, especially the 18th amendment that give new hope to the democratic system.

work on the structure, references and the headings.

Question No. 4

1) INTRODUCTION

The relationship between Pakistan and Afghanistan has been tense since 1947. From United Nations admission opposition to border concerns and ~~cross~~ border terrorism the relationship witnessed many ups and downs. There are many factors that lead both countries relations worse such as external invasion on Afghanistan, terrorism, Indian influence on Afghanistan and Pashtun ethnic sentiments. Both countries are dependent on trade routes, Afghanistan trade route Arabian Peninsula through Pakistan and Pakistan trade route to central Asia. Despite these linkages they have been in conflict Zone give the main heading first.

2) Border Security

Cross border terrorism is a major blow in Pak-

Afghan terrorism. This cross border terrorism increased year by year since the Taliban 2.0. The major terrorists incidents have seen in 2024 where the number of casualties reached more than 2500 according to BBC report. In the same report, the casualties from January to September 2024 are 766 in which majority of the security forces. Thus this incidents fragile the relations between both.

3) Refugee Crisis

Refugees deportation further escalated the relations between both countries. Pakistan hosted Afghan refugees (3 million) for more than four decades that was a burden on Pakistan economy and the spread of crimes. Therefore, Pakistan decided to return back Afghans to Afghanistan. This action upset Afghan government and condemn the action against refugee exaustion. This act

declined their trust on each other, led relations weaken.

UNHCR - data of Afghan Refugees.

4) Indian Influence on Afghanistan

Indian influence on Afghanistan is also conflicting the relationship between Pakistan and Afghanistan. Pakistan argues that the TTP and BLA are Indian sponsored terrorism based on Afghanistan, wanted to destabilize Pakistan. Therefore, Pakistan has concerns on India's presence in Afghanistan. On the other hand, Afghanistan wants to make bilateral relations with India. So thus, this engagement influences Pak-Afghan relations.

5) Critical analysis

After the fall of Kabul and the return of Taliban in Afghanistan, Pakistan hoped to better relations with them. Because Pakistan had not a good relations with Ashraf Ghani government. Pakistan celebrated the Taliban's government in Afghanistan, aimed that Taliban will reduce Indian influence in Afghanistan. And the Taliban government did the same, closed all Indian consulates and embassy. On the passage of time, Afghanistan gained engagement with India to get legitimacy. So, this was not accepted to Pakistan, raised concerns between both.

6) Conclusion:

Since the Taliban return to Kabul for second tenure gave momentum in terrorism.

The Terrorists groups aligned with the Taliban fighting against the NATO and US.

When they succeeded in topple of Ashraf Ghani government they became more confident, got support from Afghan Taliban, exacerbated terrorist activities. Along with Indian influence that further create mistrust. The deportation of refugees to Afghanistan raised grave concerns between them.