Q 3:-
1) why did timothy Dexter's rivals advise him to ship coal to Newcastle and what was intended to come out of this suggestion?

Timothy Dexter's rivals wanted to humiliate him by suggesting that he should ship coal to Newcastle - a town famous for its endless supply of coal. By doing that Timothy Dexter would have lost money.

2) What unexpected event in England transformed Dexter's apparently foolish coal venture into profitable success.

The coal miners started a strike which had led to pause in local coal production. This caused shortage of coal and increase in coal price. Dexter sold his merchandize at a higher profit than his rivals anticipated.

3) What does author imply about relation b/w luck and intelligence in Timothy Dexter's success?

Dexter's success was a mixture of luck and intelligence but he owes more to luck than intelligence.

His ventures in Newcastle were foolish but his luck got him a profit. Similarly in Caribbean and West Indies his luck earned him a fortune.

4) How does Dexter's repeated success in turning mockery into profit challenge conventional ideas about business, wisdom and education?

Dexter ^{Challenged} challenged role of wisdom and education. He had little education and was known as a fool. But with luck by his side he turned profit where others could not.

The prisoner looked through the narrow window and said, "They call this justice, yet I have never been heard." The guard replied softly, "Orders are orders sir, Freedom isn't decided here."

A journalist outside shouted, "The minister claimed, 'No one is above the law' but who decides what law means, when truth is 'behind bars.'" The cell fell silent.

The prisoner smiled faintly and whispered, "They can cage a man, but not his conviction."

If any professor of Urdu claims that he understands Ghalib very well and he can paint a picture of his literary prowess. No can deliver an eloquent and captivating discourse on its artistic merits, doubt he is showing off his literary prowess, but if one asks him to say a stanza like Ghalib, he will be helpless. Because understanding and creation are different realms. Understanding is product of wisdom but the creation is result of divinity.

The status that Ghalib got, ~~it~~ is not just due to study or ~~hardwork~~ but an embodiment of extraordinary brilliance, empathy and divine boon.

This is the reason his poetry is still as relevant as it is in his time.
