Renewable Energy: A Deception

The renewable energy has been termed as a source of hope to save humanity from fossil fuels. However, it has itself become a way to exploit earth's resources. The costly renewable energy sources require extraction of minerals from that destroys the earth's ecology. The old sources of challenges to environment get replaced by new ones. Products such as Electric vehicle batteries, Turbine blades and solar panels have high environmental costs and zero potential to be recycled. Furthermore, their maintenance and production is also fossil-fuel driven. Apparently, the concern for environment has translated into business ventures rather self-contemplation. The path ahead lies in taking responsibility of one's own actions and ensuring ecofriendly measures.

Read the passage thoroughly (once quickly, once carefully). Understand the meaning of each paragraph. Locate the answers in the passage; do not add outside knowledge. Answer in your own words unless asked to quote. Be precise and to the point — avoid long unnecessary explanations.

Q4

Ans: ~~DES~~ Dexter's repeated success underscores the importance of taking risks in businesses. Had Dexter not taken the risk to go to England, he would have not earned such massive profits. It indicates that uncertainty is sometimes a blessing. One could achieve great success in these moments. In terms of education, Dexter's success highlights that one does not have to strictly follow the conventional standards of business but rather explore the undiscovered avenues that hold a treasure of success and prosperity. Sticking to the conventional ideas would not bring much success.

Q5

Ans:- Dexter's rivals considered him to be a fool, because he use to take the most unusual business ~~thar~~ decisions, and genius because he was expert in turning those unusual decisions into success. The human perception about 'foolishness' and 'genius' highlights how the bizarre and often unconventional decisions taken are turned into one of the most successful through intelligence and skillful management of it.

Translation

If an Urdu professor claims that he has good understanding of Ghalib's poetry and can beautifully articulate it to capture the moment then indeed he is showing off because if he is asked to do so, he will not be able to do it. This is because knowledge and articulation are two different aspects. Knowledge comes from one's intellectual ability whereas articulation is a result of being ~~in~~ it embedded in the poetry. The status Ghalib achieved was not merely because of his hardwork but rather due to his extraordinary intelligence, compassion and closeness to God. This is the reason why his poetry still resonates today like it used to in his time.
