If any Urdu professor claims that he completely understands the writings of Ghalib and he can create a joyful environment by debating on his literary qualities, then no doubt, he is ~~is~~ reflecting his intellectual capacity, but if he is demanded to say a verse like Ghalib, he will be helpless.

Avoid cutting

Because ^{understanding} ~~intellect~~ and creativity belong to two different ^{realms} worlds. ~~Intellect~~ Understanding stems from intellect while ~~creativity~~ results from inspiration and perception.

The Ghalib got the rank in poetry not only from reading or hardwork but from extraordinary brilliance, ~~so~~ feeling and it was a sign of divine guidance. This is the reason even after centuries, his poetry or poems has same effect ~~on~~ on hearts as they had in that era.

Question / Answers

Answer 1:

Timothy Dexter was an American trader who was known as fool as well as genius. He had little education but was very confident of himself, that's why sometimes even his wrong decisions turned into good luck and he earned reputation and became successful. But his rivals felt jealous of his success and advised him to sell coal to Newcastle which already has plenty of coal, by this, they assumed that Timothy will feel embarrassed. However, its outcome was not to their assumption. When he reached there, coal was in shortage due to massive strike, he sold his coal and earned profits.

Answer 2.

Newcastle was known for plenty of coal resources ~~but when~~ and shipping coal to Newcastle was not more than a joke and it would result in embarrassing Dexter but when his ship reached there, the scenario was different. There was a strike by miner's and it has caused no production of coal due to which there was a shortage in market. Dexter sold his coal and made a profit. This transformed Dexter's ^{from} being fool to a successful person.

Answer 3:

Author implies an inverse relationship between luck and intelligence in Timothy Dexter's Success. It is obvious that these both are not directly inter-connected because Timothy was not a highly educated person and was also considered a fool, it means that he does not have any high level intelligence, he often made wrong decisions but the main point is besides all this, he achieved success in his every step. The reason is that he was confident of himself and has a strong believe in his abilities. It shows that if a person lacks intelligence but he believes in himself, luck would be on his side and he can achieve his goals.

Answer 5:

People's perceptions of foolishness and genius changed and is based on the outcomes of actions. For example, Dexter was considered fool and his decisions as foolish decisions but when he achieved success, his rivals perceptions about foolishness changed and their opinion changed. Sometimes, the things that look foolish can appear as genius when they bring success.

Answer 4:

Dexter's repeated success challenged conventional ideas about business wisdom and education. His success shows that business wisdom and education are not the only ways to achieve success. He had little education and made strange decisions yet he still achieved profits. This challenges the belief that only educated people can succeed in business. His story reveals that sometimes confidence, high-risk taking and luck can be enough to be successful.

Title: Covert's Consequences of Renewable Energy

The Deception of Green Energy

People considers renewable energy as a only way to replace fossil fuel costs. Everyone including politicians, thinkers and environmentalists emphasize this as the only way to heal the planet but its hidden impacts on planet are often undetermined. Renewable energy resources have some hidden consequences, they use rare-earth minerals which are extracted from poor regions by practices that further impure the land, makes it infertile, destroys vegetation and the chemicals used in extraction accumulates in soil and water reservoirs.

Moreover, other inventions that are meant to improve environment and reduce the pollution, are adding to the existing impure environment like electric vehicles. Renewable
