paradigms. ~~in daily life~~. Resultantly, the society has become dual sided mirror in which one offers dreams while other leads to see reality. We all ^{are} wanted other's correction but showed reluctance to self-accountability. Thus everybody is petrolling while taking darkness in pockets. Nations are builded because of character not because (i)

Sportsmanship can be conceptualized as characteristics of self control, persistence and adhering the rules of sports while playing. It bounds a sportsman to respect opponents, authority and discipline. However, cheating and gaining unfair advantage can encompass the sportsmanship.

(ii)

The four elements of sportsmanship are being good form,

, the will to win, equity and fairness. This is important to maintain balance among these four elements because these are the main sources to set spirit of sportsmanship alive. Moreover, these principles make sure not to get an unfair advantage. Additionally, with balancing these elements, a team can become successful easily.

The desire to win sometimes leads to adopt unfair means. It can stimulate a sportsman to do cheating or use unfair means to gain advantage. Moreover, it may lead to break the standards of sportsmanship. In this way, a desire to win sometimes lead to conflict with elements of equity and fairness in sportsmanship.
