

PART - I

QUESTION NO. 1

(PART NO. A)

1) Volatile

2) Inevitable

3) Pallid

4) Untamed

5) factious

6) Hula-hoop

7) Ivy

8) Pressing

9) Condensation

10) Apathetic

(PART NO. B)

1) Praise

10) Evident

2) Dull

3) Endorse

4) Prevent

5) Artifice

6) Convincing

7) Annoy

8) Depressed

9) Lavish

PART - II

QUESTION NO. 2

Precis Writing

History of Oratory and Present Day

People cannot predict the future of oratory. In present day, orator word is used only used to praise someone's speaking skills. Unlike present, in ancient times, orators believed their role is significant. Today, the skill of speaking eloquently is not given much attention. Power of speaking and expressing through speech is replaced by print and broadcast media. Public speakers still play an important role, but the improvement in art of public speaking is not emphasized. Among many English orators, Sir Winston Churchill is one who survived the dying tradition of oratory. He is so eloquent that no thought or word sounds abrupt. Instead, every word is thoughtfully presented. He successfully expresse are the part of

Sir win

Word

1) In th

as to chara

the coura

othe

oppo

2)

be eq

ma

gf

expressed himself on different issues. His speeches are the standard of eloquency, an important part of history, and a way to remember Sir Winston Churchill.

Word Count : 135

QUESTION NO. 3

1) In the passage, sportmanship is conceptualized as tolerating and comparatively consistent characteristic of an individual. It includes the virtues such as paitence, self-control, courage, and how one individual treats other with respect. Whether a friend or opponent, sportsman maintain equality.

2) The four elements of sportsmanship are being in good form, the will to win, equity and fairness. It is important to maintain all four elements for sportsmanship. If a sportsman is too invested in the wins that ^{he/she} ignores equity and fairness, sportsmanship is dismissed. Sportsmanship does not include self-centered individual traits.

3) A sportsman who is inclined towards winning forgets the key elements of sportsmanship. Their drive for win leads to adaptation of unfair means. They break rules of games and sports to gain unfair advantage and win. So, as the passage suggests, unprecedented want of winning can lead to conflict with key elements like equity and fairness.

4) According to the passage, sore loser is one who shows poor sportsmanship after losing. On the other hand, bad winner shows the same after winning. Sportsmanship require responsibility, but a sore loser blame others for loss and bad winner lowers self-confidence of the opponent. In both cases, respect is not shown to other sportsmen.

QUESTION NO. 4

ii) While walking through the forest, it suddenly started raining.

iv) This is the perfect solution to the problem.

vii) They suggested us to join the club.

vii) She does not have enough time to finish the project.

viii) It is Sara and Maria's house.

QUESTION NO. 5

(PART NO. A)

i) The baseball game was cancelled because of the heavy rain.

iv) The principal was asking questions about her behavior.

v) He succeeded with a little help.

vii) At the time we started dinner, the food was cold.

ix) The fireman led the people away from the burning building.

(PART NO. B)

If you look around you and consider the lives of others, as well as your own. If you think how few are born with honor and how many die without name or children, how little beauty we see and how few friends we hear of, how many diseases and how much poverty there is in the world; you will fall down upon knees, and instead of repining at one affliction, will admire so many blessings which you have received from the hand of God.

QUESTION NO. 6

ii) Averse, Adverse

- A risk-averse investor will not invest in highly risky stocks.
- Adverse effects of the drugs were written on the package.

vi) Pour, pore

- Ali poured him a glass of water.
- The sheet had many pores that it couldn't be used.

vii) Especially, Specially

- UV rays can cause sunburn, especially in winters.
- Amna baked a cake specially for her birthday.

viii) Everyday, every day

- These are her everyday shoes.
- I have to do writing practice every day.

iii) Object, object

- Everyone was shocked by her objection.
- Policies are made to reduce object poverty.

QUESTION NO. 7

In our ~~culture~~^{society} people talk about change, but when they have to act, everyone turn their backs. They talk about change in protests, write policies in articles, but compromise on basic principles in daily life without thinking. As a result, society turned into two-sided mirror; one side has a castle of dreams and other side has defeat of reality. We all want to correct others but are scared of correction ourselves, like ^{every} a person who is an evidence of dark under light. Nations are not build upon slogan, but on character, and characters only flourish when people make honesty an obligation on themselves, otherwise collective success turns into an illusion.