

Q no: 4

Ans:

(iv) Each of the students is required to submit his assignments before the deadline.

(iii) Scarcely had I reached the station when the train departed from the platform.

(vi). The number of unemployed graduates is increasing every year in the country.

(v) Not only, he distributed sweets among the children but also among the elderly persons.

(vii) The committee have been deliberating on the proposal since morning but have not yet arrived at any consensus.

Q no 5: (B)

Ans:

(ii) We must abide by the rules of the institution.

(i) The judge acquitted him to the charge of theft.

(iii) He is deficient in common sense despite his education.

(vii) The minister expressed his disapproval on the manner in which the enquiry was conducted.

(v) The new policy is prejudicial for the interests of small farmers and landless labourers.

Q no 5: (A)

Ans:.

The minister, addressing the gathering, said my fellow citizens, "we stand today at a critical juncture in our nations' history. We must ask ourselves, are we prepared to face the challenges ahead or shall we succumb to despondency and inaction?"

Dr. Ahmed, the renowned economist, had warned us last year that unless immediate reforms are undertaken, the economy will collapse; however, his advice was not heeded now. We find ourselves in precisely the predicament he had predicted: therefore,

i urge you all to support the governments' new economic policy which though painful in the short term will yield beneficial results in the long run. Lets not be continued repeat the mistakes of the past. Lets move forward with determination and courage.

Qno 3:.

Ans:.

(1)

Ans:.

The author identifies the misconception in the popular understanding of tradition and progress. And this misconception is considered dangerous because on one hand it stifles innovation and on second hand it break free from obsolete constraints.

(2)

Ans. The author uses historical examples such as the scholars of European Renaissance, the great religious reforms and every scientific revolution are challenging the notion that progress requires abandoning the past.

(3)

Ans:-

The writer describes tradition as a living conversation across generations rather than a static repository of dead customs because every future generation represents the tradition of past and still tradition is conserved and not have vanished yet.

(4)

Ans:-

The paradox exists in the modern search for meaning such as exotic spiritualities, therapeutic techniques, and political movements. and this reveals about contemporary society that some traditions embody hard-won wisdom and deserve preservation; others enshrine injustice and demand abolition.

(5)

Ans:-

I do not agree that such distinction is possible because some traditions of one nation are considered dangerous for some one and it is difficult to distinguish among them.

Ques::

Ans::

Little Knowledge is Dangerous

As knowledge becomes more specialized, human find themselves less able to deal with basic problems. Being an expert in one field does not make a person wise about life as a whole. Humans see the world through particular lens depending on his discipline whether he is an economist, a biologist, or a psychologist. This particular lens hinders the progress and hide the problems of other discipline so that no one can understand them. Today's world looks like a broken mirror and no way to put the pieces back together into a clear image.

The experts have weakened the human trusts. This dependence on experts turning active citizens into passive consumers who simply accept whatever expert opinion are given. Human need people who can move freely between different fields of knowledge to solve the complicated questions for the betterment of humanity. Human also need schools and universities that teach students to think broadly as well as deeply to produce diversity in their knowledge. Human also need to regain faith

in the power of ordinary intelligence to make good decisions.

Actual Passage words = 580

Precis words = 185

Qno: 6

Ans:.

(ii) Depreciate = Devalue, lessen

Pakistan's currency is depreciating due to IMF
loans.

(viii) Eminent = famous.

Waseem is eminent poet.

Ques:

Ans:

Literature is a vein of ~~the~~ any society who reflects moral and spiritual conditions. When literature of any nation became obsolete then it should be assumed that nation has completely vanished. Unfortunately, today's literature becomes meaningless and is captured by the mafias. The writer who sell their literature for money, actually he sold his self. The actual literature is who raise voice against truth and raise pen against false if he has to sacrificed everything.