

Q No 3Ans No (1)

The author identify that tradition and progress as complete opposites. people think that tradition represents the dead hand of the past and progress representing the dynamic energy of the future which is beneficial.

This error is dangerous because progress is not always better. Sometime learning from past is wisdom.

Ans No (2)

The author shows that major progress in history came from reconnecting with past. He mention that great renaissance and religious reformers grounded their revolutionary visions in ancient texts. Even scientific revolutions often involve the recovery of neglected insights from earlier thinkers.

Ans No (3)

writer called tradition as "a living conversation across generation" which means tradition is always active in every generation. It is not anything which is outdated and can be dead over time. Every future generation learns from its tradition.

Ans No (4)

The paradox is that modern people reject their own traditions. People seek meaning and purpose from exotic spiritualities, therapeutic techniques and political movements. They don't know what they seek is already present in their traditions.

Ans No (5)

Yes, I agree that such distinction is possible. Real intelligence and judgment through critical thinking will help to examine the valuable tradition. I also agree that biasness also exists towards your own perspective, but it will not make a good decision.

Ans No (4)

- (i) The committee who were appointed to investigate the matter they submitted their report last week.

The committee which was appointed to investigate the matter submitted their report last week.

- (ii) He has been living in this city since ten years and knows every corner of it.
He has been living in this city for ten years and knows every corner of it.

- (iv) Each of the students are required to submit their assignments before the deadline.
Each of the students is required to submit their assignment before the deadline.

- (vi) The number of unemployed graduates are increasing every year in the country.
The number of unemployed graduates is increasing every year in the country.

(iii) Scarcely had I reached the station after the train departed from the platform.

Ans No(5) (A)

The minister addressing the gathering said,
"My fellow citizens, we stand today at a critical juncture in our nation's history. We must ask ourselves are we prepared to face the challenges ahead, or shall we succumb to despondency and inaction?" Dr. Ahmed, the renowned economist had warned us last year that unless immediate reforms are undertaken the economy will collapse. However, his advice was not heeded. Now, we find ourselves in precisely the predicament he had predicted.
"Therefore, I urge you all to support the government's new economic policy, which though painful in the short term will yield beneficial results in the long run. Let's not be continued repeat the mistakes of the past. Let's move forward with determination and courage."

Q5 (B)

- i) The Judge acquitted him in of the charge of theft.
- ii) we must abide by the rules of the institution.
- iii) He is deficient in common sense despite his education.
- iv) The principal presided over the function yesterday.
- vi) His conduct is not commensurate with his position and responsibilities in the organization.

Q6 (Answer)

(iv) prescribe, proscribe

prescribe

The doctor prescribed antibiotics for her illness.

proscribe

Sometime doctors proscribed to take heavy antibiotics.

(vi) Appraise, Apprise

Appraise

The teacher appraised Sara for her academic excellence.

Apprise

The Government apprised the public before any holiday.

(7) Councillor, Counsellor

Counsellor

prime Minister spoke to his counsellor about the problems.

QNo (7)

Literature is the pulse of any society which reflects its spirituality. When the literature of any nation starts to decline then it is understandable need to understand that nation is at the end.