Q#2

Title of the Passage:
Fragmentation of knowledge
in Expertise Era

Total Words:
330

One-third of original:
110

Precise:

The modern worship of expertise fragments knowledge into narrow specializations, rendering us incapable of addressing holistic human challenges like climate change, which blend science, economics, sociology, politics, morality, and culture. Specialists view reality through biased disciplinary lenses like economists view human as rational optimizers, biologists as gene propagators, psychologists as impulse-driven entities which treats partial insights as total truth, unlike the medieval unified worldview now shattered like a broken mirror. This erodes common sense, promotes passive dependence on experts for daily wisdom like parenting, contrasting medieval holistic views. Progress requires integrating specialities under humanity, interdisciplinary thinking, broad education, and trust in ordinary intelligence to escape knowing more about less.

The Minister, addressing the gathering, said, "My fellow citizens, we stand today at a critical juncture in our nation's history. We must ask ourselves: are we prepared to face the challenges ahead, or shall we succumb to despondency and inaction? Dr. Ahmed, the renowned economist, had warned us last year that unless immediate reforms are undertaken, the economy will collapse. However, his advice was not heeded. Now we find ourselves in precisely the predicament he had predicted. Therefore, I urge you all to support the government's new economic policy which though painful in the short term will yield beneficial
