QUESTION: 03

PART: A

The historian paused, looked directly at the audience and said, "The fall of ancient civilizations cannot be attributed to a single cause; however, we must consider several interconnected factors including environmental degradation, economic instability and political corruption. Moreover, the notion that these societies simply vanished is absurd; they transformed, evolved and in many cases their descendants continue to thrive today. When examining primary sources from that era particularly letters written by merchants, farmers and government officials, we discover a far more complex narrative than traditional textbooks. Suggest Dr. Ahmed, one of the leading scholars in this field has argued that we must read between the lines to understand what really happened, the evidence he claims speaks for itself."
