Precis Writing:

Title :-

Orator In Ancient Times ✕

Precis :-

The oratory is mostly used with slightly derisory accent as when men say with curious emphasis. The orators were engaged on task of highest worth and value in ancient times. But the care and attention provided to art of public speaking is declining nowadays. The growth of power of written words have all tended to lessen the interest in more published or more ornate kinds of speaking. Men and women in busy age have little time to strive for perfection in the form of what they say. Sir Winston Churchill is in many respects a survivor from golden age of oratory. He carries no thought and word at random but takes much care of both arrangement of his ideas and the graciousness of his language. For more than 50 years, he has expressed himself on great national and international matters.
