POLITICAL STRATEGY OF SIR SYED AHMAD KHAN FOR PROTECTION OF MUSLIM INTERESTS

I- INTRODUCTION

War of Independence of 1857 was a turning point for Muslims in the sub-continent. As a consequence of war, Muslim decline was inevitable. Sir Syed Ahmad Khan sensed the danger and put his all efforts to protect the Muslim interest. His political strategy included aloofness from politics, adoption of modernity and loyalty towards British. While Indian National Congress adopted an approach to directly confront British colonialism through ^{direct} political efforts and direct anti Muslim approach. The efforts of Sir Syed guided Muslims of subcontinent to come out of political and economic isolation by adopting modernity.

II - BACKGROUND

DAY: _____

The 1857 war of Independence made muslims decline inevitable. Hindus blamed muslims as Holly sdy responsible for the war though both were equally involved in war. Muslims cornered direct wealth of British. Their jobs were taken and were not allowed to apply for higher posts in government. Muslims also refused to get the modern education and lacted behind from the Hindus. This provided Hindus an opportunity to control the elite posts in governments. Hindus started to remove all the things and symbols associated with muslim identity and replaced it with Hindu symbolisms. British feared muslims as they had taken the rule from muslims so they also kept the muslims behind the hooks. So muslim nationalism, symbolism and identity was at the verge of decline.

III POLITICAL STRATEGY OF SIR SYED AHMAD KHAN

political strategy was to ensure ^{the} muslims ~~identity~~, so he advised muslims to:

a- ALOOFNESS FROM POLITICAL

British advised muslims to keep themselves away from the politics. He did so because he was aware that muslims lack behind in political accumen and ~~hindus~~, due to modern education, will misguide and will lead to misuse muslim power for their own interests.

b- MODERNITY TO GET POLITICAL ACCUMAN

He advised muslims modernity to get the political accuman to counter the ~~hindus~~ in political field. For this, he advised muslims to get modern education and benefit from modern resources. The modern education provided by Aligarh paved way for later political struggles of Muslims. For example, modern education provided Muslims political leadership which guided Muslims in ^{spiritual deterioration leading to} political Reforms, political struggle in 1920's and 30's. This leadership guided Muslims in Pakistan movement as well.

→ ECONOMIC WELLBEING - A MOTIVE OF SIR-SYED FOR POLITICAL GOALS

Sir Syed emphasized on modern education for economic well being of Muslims. He was of the view that through economic well being, social well being can be obtained. And social well being can lead to political Renaissance of Muslims in the sub-continent.

d- ALIGARH AND POLITICAL EFFORTS

Aligarh, established by Sir Syed, proved vital in political Renaissance of Muslims. Firstly, it equipped Muslims with modern education and enabled them to participate in politics. Secondly, it enhances critical thinking abilities and polished leadership skills of Muslims and made them enable to participate in politics.

f- BRITISH LOYALTY AS A POLITICAL MOVE OF SIR SYED

Sir Syed Ahmad Khan advised Muslims to show their loyalty to the British. This was actually a political move to ensure British trust in Muslim else British would have ruined the political efforts of Muslim at the start. He showed British loyalty through his literary work like "Cause of Indian Revolt" through which he justified the Muslims and tried to project soft image of Muslims. This proved vital in later political history of Muslims.

IV - DIFFERENCE FROM METHODS ADOPTED BY INDIAN NATIONAL CONGRESS

political strategy differed from Indian national Congress in many ways like

a - CONGRESS ENCOURAGED ACTIVE PARTICIPATION

One major difference between Congress and Sir Syed effort was that Congress actively participated in politics while Sir Syed first asked Muslims to aloo themselves from politics and focus on modern education and to make themselves capable of politics.

b - LOYALTY TOWARDS BRITISH - DISTINCTIVE FACTOR BETWEEN ALIGARH AND CONGRESS

likewise,
the loyalty towards British
was another factor that was different in Congress and Aligarh strategies.
Sir Syed emphasized on loyalty towards

British but this was not a franchise of Congress political struggle.

C- HINDU DOMINANCE IN CONGRESS WHILE MUSLIM RENAISSANCE AS OBJECTIVE OF ALIGARH

Another prominent difference between Congress and Sir Syed's political struggle was that that Sir Syed focused on Muslim Renaissance while Congress focused on Hindu superiority and dominance of Hindus in the sub-continent.

D- CONGRESS - A DIRECT POLITICAL STRUGGLE VS ALIGARH AS A REFORMIST MOVEMENT WITH POLITICAL OUTCOMES

Congress was a political party and used politics
 as its weapon, on the other hand Aligarh was basically a reformist movement used education as a strategy and politics as a by product.

 in legislations, policy formulation and international affairs of Pakistan.

SOCIO-ECONOMIC IMPLICATIONS OF CLIMATE CHANGE FOR PAKISTAN

a- DISASTERS INDUCED LOSS OF LIFE

Disaster induced life loss is one of the major socio-economic implications of climate change on Pakistan. As Pakistan is among the top 20 most vulnerable states related to climate disasters, it faces a lot of deaths related to climate change. For example, the 2025 monsoon caused many casualties in Pakistan. Likewise, 2022 was marked as most disasterous years related to climate induced deaths as floods in 2022 killed thousand of people. Similarly, Pakistan has witnessed a record killing of thousands from climate induced floods in 2010. So loss of precious human lives is one of the major socio socio economic issue of Pakistan. Not only humans, but animal life is also lost in disasters like flood.

b- CLIMATE CHANGE AND PROPERTY LOSS

Another socio economic implications of climate change are that it leads to property loss. Climate change leads to various disasters. These disasters leads to loss of property of individuals. Villages are sacked by floods and leads to complete catastrophe. For example, the 2008 floods due to climate led to vast number of property loss. Homes made of stones in Northern and rural areas were demolished due to floods.

c- CLIMATE INDUCED POVERTY AS A SOCIO-ECONOMIC ISSUE

likewise the climate induced poverty is another major issue in Pakistan. Various climate ^{induced} disasters in Pakistan led to loss of jobs and economic prosperity was compromised.

DAY: _____

This is because due to infrastructure damage, economic loss is done. Secondly, economic resources like crops and ready fruits are damaged and destroyed. This leads to economic sufferings of farmers, and this also cause shortage of fruits and vegetables and their prices hike. The fruit and vegetables become out of reach of common men and hence inflation leads to economic crisis. Pakistan witnessed same in all major floods.

E-DROUGHTS AND FOOD SHORTAGE AS SOCIO-ECONOMIC IMPLICATION OF CLIMATE CHANGE

change also leads to droughts. This is because climate change alters the rain patterns and temperature of a specific area. Thus, crops cannot grow properly in that area, this leads to decrease in yield and ultimately causes drought. This drought leads to food shortage. Pakistan has witnessed food shortages due to climate change and is vulnerable to food

F - Diseases and climate change

Climate change in Pakistan is also associated with diseases in Pakistan. Firstly, various natural calamities lead to outbreak of epidemics like cholera, pink eye disorder etc as witnessed in 2002 and 2005. Secondly, changing climate favours the virus to sustain life in temperature higher than the normal one. Outbreak of influenza H-2 in many areas of Pakistan is attributed to changes in temperature due to climate change.

QUESTION NO 03

GEO-ECONOMIC SIGNIFICANCE OF PAKISTAN'S CONNECTIVITY INITIATIVE

INTRODUCTION

Belt and Road initiative of China, to connect the global south, is one of the most prominent step to empower the global south. Pakistan is part of flagship project of BRI, CPEC. CPEC, Pakistan and China's joint effort to ensure connectivity holds vital significance for geo-economics of the global south. It empowers global south by providing the economic and shortest link of various states of global south to energy rich areas of central Asia. Various projects under CPEC like economic zones and industrialization holds key promises to make the region in general and Pakistan in specific prosperous.

a- EXCLUSIVE ECONOMIC ZONES AND GEO-ECONOMIC SIGNIFICANCE OF CPEC

Geo-economic zones of Exclusive Economic Zones under CPEC are major game changers related to geo-economics of the region. Six major economic zones are to be constituted under CPEC, holding the capacity to improve the economic crises.

b- INVESTMENT IN IT AND AGRICULTURE UNDER CPEC-PHASE II

CPEC phase-II is about the investment in agriculture and IT sector. Pakistan holds the potential as well as raw materials to groom its IT and agriculture industry. IT and agriculture exports of Pakistan can be increased by CPEC. Middle East and China are among the major importers of IT and agricultural goods. By proper utilization of opportunity, Pakistan can become able to export agricultural products to USA and middle East.

C- INDUSTRIALIZATION AND JOB CREATION

likewise, CPEC has the ability to create jobs by industrialization and exclusive economic zones and hence can change the economic fate of Pakistan.

d- GEO-ECONOMIC CONNECTIVITY - SHORTER ROUTES TO CHINA AND RUSSIA

Another important feature of ~~geo-economic~~ ~~related~~ CPEC related to geo-economics is that it offers a shorter route to various states to reach the energy rich countries of Central Asian ~~republics~~ and also to Russia and hence it is a game changer related to connectivity. For example, it offers a shorter route for India to import oil from ~~Russia~~ or central Asian ~~republics~~ through CPEC and ~~Crowader~~.

e - South - South Cooperation and CPEC

It provides an important opportunity to bridge the gap between ^{global} South by providing an easy, faster and reliable route to connect the states of ^{global} South. Hence it can be vital in increasing ^{South-South} cooperation and decreasing ^{Hegeemony} of global North.

REGIONAL ALIGNMENT AND PAKISTAN'S STRATEGIC RELEVANCE

Recently, three major regional alignments are made

- 1) - Russia - India
- 2) Russia - China
- 3) China - Afghanistan

a - HOW RUSSIA INDIA ALLIANCE DOES NOT DECREASE PAKISTAN'S RELEVANCE

India - Russia nexus and increase in Trade is not a significant factor to decrease Pakistan's strategic relevance. This is because Pakistan is strategic partner of China, which in turn has strategic alliance with Russia. Pakistan's inclusion in SCO was joint bid of Russia and China. This shows that this alliance has not decreased strategic relevance of Pakistan.

~~B- INDIA - CHINA ALLIANCE - NON SIGNIFICANT TO UNDERMINE PAKISTAN'S STRATEGIC RELEVANCE~~

China alliance also does not hold significance. This is because, India and China were historic rivals and Pakistan and China are historic friends. India's strategic partnership with US including civil nuclear deals and its alliance to contain China makes Pakistan more relevant.

~~C- CHINA AFGHANISTAN~~

Write conclusion paragraph

likewise, Afghanistan
China alliance is also not of such nature to decrease Pakistan's strategic relevance. Inclusion of Afghanistan in CPEC can increase its relevance but it does not undermine Pakistan's strategic relevance.

STRUCTURAL CAUSES OF POLITICAL INSTABILITY IN PAKISTAN

INTRODUCTION

Since its inception Pakistan faces political crises. Major cause of political crises in Pakistan are numerous including military intervention, undemocratic norms within political parties, lack of accountability and elite capture. It costs Pakistan's national security and Foreign policy like no unilateral decision makings and inconsistent foreign policy.

a - Military Interventions

One major cause of political instability in Pakistan is military interventions in Pakistan. Pakistan either faces direct military rule or indirect control of policies by military.

(i) Direct Military Rule

Pakistan has faced 3 martial laws and four different military dictators ruled Pakistan directly for more than 25 years in its 70 year history.

(ii) Indirect Military Rule

A part from direct military rule, Pakistan also faced military interference in state affairs which is another cause of political instability in Pakistan.

b- Lack of Accountability

Lack of accountability of corrupt leaders, politicians and bureaucrats at one hand and of citizens involved in extremist tendencies related to politics at other hand is another cause of lack of political stability in Pakistan.

C- GEN-2 AND POLITICAL POLARIZATION

rising political polarization and extremist tendencies along with politics of name, blame and shame is another political instability reason. This is fuelled by extremist opinion of Gen-2 having no limits to respect the political opinion. Hate breeds hate. So extremist tendencies of Gen-2 belonging to a political party ignites the youth of opposite party leading to political instability.

D- SOCIAL MEDIA AS A CAUSE OF POLITICAL INSTABILITY

Social media is another major cause of political instability in Pakistan. Propaganda, hate speeches and most specially the misinformation associated with social media is another cause of political instability in Pakistan.

f- No Democracy with in Political Parties.

Another issue is that there is no democracy with in so called democratic parties. This is another cause of political instability in Pakistan. Dynastic politics and Nepotism along with other undemocratic norms prevail in Pakistan leading to instability.
