1) Women's studies is an older subject

Gender studies
begins from the critical position established by women's studies in order to look more broadly at gender as a phenomenon.
women's studies is basically an older subject than the gender studies.

2) Gender studies is inclusive

Gender studies is more inclusive than women's studies. Women's studies focus merely on women and on their issues, whereas Gender

Autonomy vs Integration Debate

This debate is basically between two school of thoughts. One is in favour of integration of gender studies in existing disciplines whereas the others want to keep it as a separate discipline.

Date: _____

Day: _____

History of debate:

This debate was started by National Women Suffrage Association in 1922. It was discussed that either Gender Studies should be made ~~in~~ another department or it should be added into Sociology, Anthropology, Economics or Psychology.

Arguments in favour of Autonomy:

mention the crux of the argument as heading.....

Arg. Argument #1:

If you would integrate Gender Studies with other subjects then you will lose track for which Gender Studies was basically started.

Date: _____

Day: _____

Argument #2

Autonomy gives direction to Gender Studies for Progress

minimum description under a heading should be 5 lines.....

Argument #3

Integration will hinder and undermine Gender Studies ✓

Argument #4

Being a separate subject, it would be more theoretical. Hence, it can better point out Gender-related issues. ✓

add and highlight references/examples against these arguments.....

Arguments in favour of Integration

Argument #1: It should

Date: _____

Day: _____

be integrated into existing disciplines because these people have already mastered their disciplines and they know how work works.

Argument # 2

After integration, there will be more practical work instead of theoretical work.

Argument # 3

Integration is the only way to compel policymakers.

Conclusion

Gender studies is a multidisciplinary

Difference between WID, WAD and
GAD

Introduction

Women in Development (WID), Women and Development (WAD)
and Gender and Development
(GAD) are three approaches to development in Gender

Date: _____

Day: _____

Studies. They differ in variety of ways. GAD approach offers best strategy to achieve gender equality in Pakistan.

WID Approach to Development

Origin

WID approach emerged in 1970s. It emerged from liberal feminist theory. It was response to women's exclusion in development programs.

Core focus

Core focus of WID are

- i) To integrate women into development

ii) Emphasis on women's participation in economic activities

iii) Focus on welfare,
equity and efficiency

Strategies

Strategies adopted by WID proponents are

i) women-specific projects

ii) Skill-training and income generating activities

iii) Legal reforms and policy advocacy

WID approach led to Gender and Development
approach

WAD Approach to Development

Origin

It emerged in 1980s.

It is a critique to WID's failure to address structural inequalities.

Core focus

Core focus of this approach is

- i) Women-centered Development
- ii) Recognition of women's unpaid labor
- iii) Focus on addressing structural inequalities.

Strategic

Strategic proposed by WAD proponents are;

- i) Holistic development
projects
- ii) promotion of collectivism and community development
- iii) Redistribution of Resource.

WAD approach contributed to emergence of GAD
approach.

GAD Approach to Development

Origin

It emerged in 1980s by Socialist

and Marxist feminism,

Key features

- i) It recognised the significance of global partnerships.
- ii) It laid stress on gender-responsive budgeting.
- iii) Legal reform for violence and discrimination.
- iv) Addressed gender disparity in labour market.
- v) Focused on health and reproductive rights.

which approach is better for Pakistan

GAD approach is most effective for Pakistan because it addresses

Date: _____

Day: _____

Structural patriarchy, not just women's inclusion.

Pakistani society is characterised with gendered power relations within family, religious interpretations, labor markets and political institutions.

GAD's emphasis on gender mainstreaming allows policies to address unpaid care work, women's political representation, male-dominance in decision-making and gender-based violence. Simultaneously, discuss this in detail by giving subheadings.....

Conclusion:

Three approaches to gender — WID, WAD and GAD — have peculiar characteristics and differences.
In Pakistan's context, GAD approach is most effective to promote gender equity.

Gender-Based Violence:

Types, strategies to prevent it in Pakistan

Introduction

GBV is any act of violence committed due to gender or perceived gender roles. It is divided into direct and indirect forms of violence. It can be reduced in Pakistan by taking inclusive, robust and holistic measures.

GBV

GBV refers to any harmful act committed against a Person will on the basis of gender or perceived gender role. It affects women, men, children and gender-diverse person but disproportionately impacts women and girls due to structural inequalities.

United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA) highlights GBV as violence rooted in power imbalance and gender inequality that affects survivors' physical, emotional and socio-economic well-being.

Various Forms of GBV in Pakistan

Various forms of Gender-based Violence in Pakistan are following;

Domestic & Intimate Partner Violence

Sexual violence and Rape

Honour based Violence

Violence against children

Types of GBV

A) Domestic & IPV

Domestic Violence

includes physical assault, emotional abuse and coercion within household, often by husband or male relative.

For example; According to Social Sustainable Development

Organization (SSDO) report, more than 32000

cases have been

Date: _____

Day: _____

reported of violence against women. Most cases are of Domestic Violence.

B) Sexual Violence & Rape

Sexual Violence

ranges from rape and attempted rape to sexual harassment and forced prostitution. Pakistan continues to report high number of rape and sexual assault cases.

For example; According to Sahil, 1339 cases of rape were reported in 2024 in Pakistan

C) Honour-based Killing

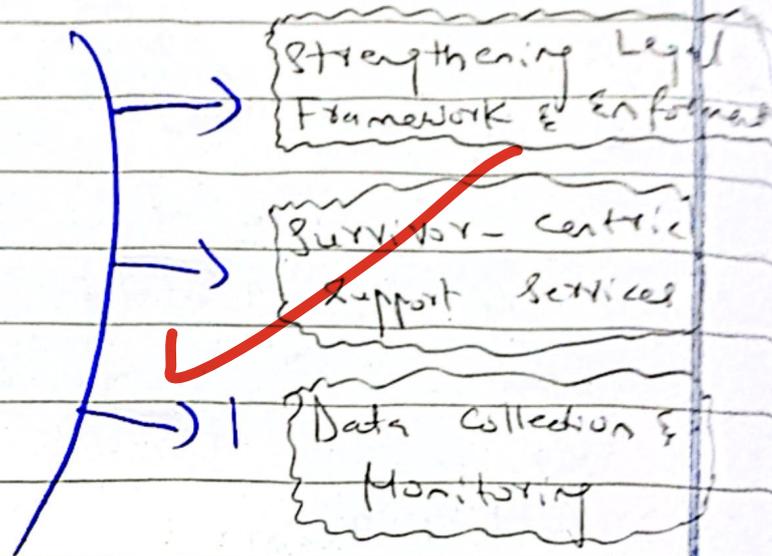

Violence committed in the name of honour is called honour-based violence. Honour-killing are rampant in Pakistan.

For example; More than 500 honour-related killing took place in Pakistan in 2024 according to Dawn.

D) Violence against children

Children face GBV through child sexual abuse, abduction, trafficking, child labour and early and forced marriage.

Practical and policy-oriented strategies to reduce GRV

1) Strengthening Legal Framework and enforcement

Pakistan has multiple laws against GRV such as Protection of Anti-women Practices, Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, but enforcement is weak. Implementation and swift prosecution should be ensured.

Date: _____

Day: _____

Government should establish specialised GBV courts and reduce delay and enhance survivor protection

2) Survivor-centric support services

Government should expand One-stop crisis centres in hospitals and police stations across provinces.

Pakistan's launch of a national GBV Helpline Toolbox sets a foundation for standardized, empathic response with UNFPA and Rozen partnership.

3) Data collection & Monitoring

Strengthening GBV

based data system enables evidence-based policy.

Conclusion

GBV is systematic and multi-dimensional affecting women, girls, children and trans-persons in multiple spheres of life. A policy-integrated, multi-sectoral approach backed by political will ~~offer~~ offers the most plausible way to reduce GBV in Pakistani society in long-term.

Q No 6

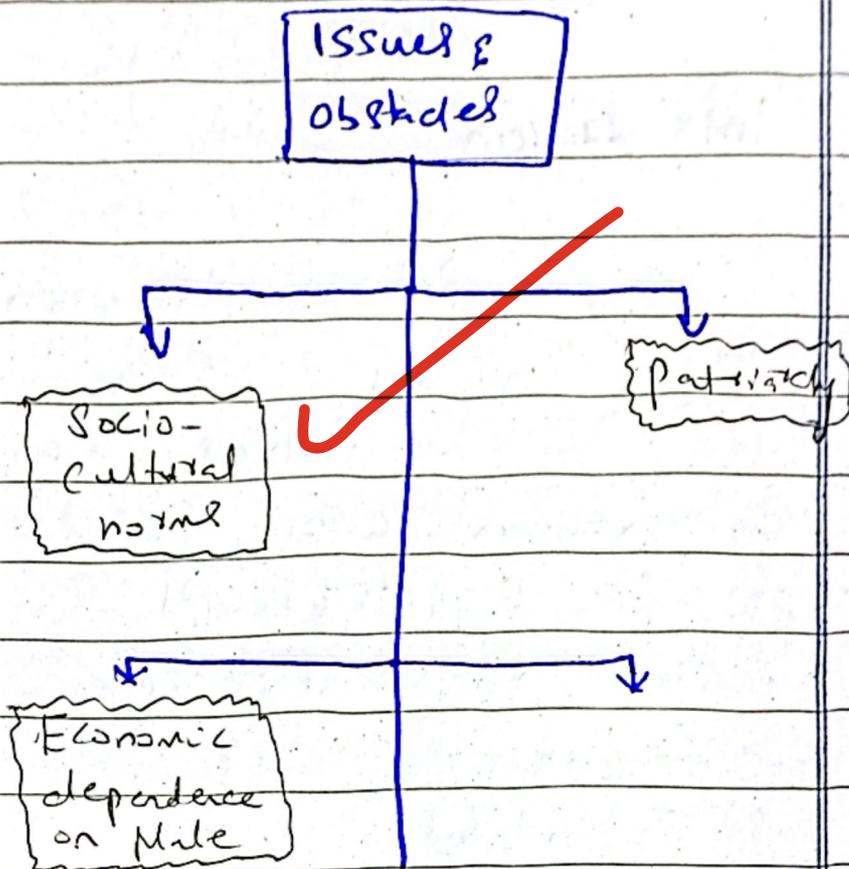

Introduction

Political participation is a fundamental right according to International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR). Women in Pakistan face numerous issues as a voter, candidate and representative in political systems of Pakistan. Gender quota, subsequently, has both positive and negative effects on women's representation.

Obstacles faced by women in Pakistan's political system

Following are the obstacles faced by women in

Pakistan's Political System

1) Socio-cultural Norms

Rigid socio-cultural norms are one of the primary obstacles

Date: _____

Day: _____

face by women in political system of Pakistan. Women's political participation is considered as taboo in rural areas of KP, Punjab, Sindh and Balochistan. Women are discouraged, rather than encouraged to step out of house to participate in politics.

Founder of Pakistan, Quaid-e-Azam Ali Mohammed Ali Jinnah regarded as 'crime against humanity that our women are shut in four walls of home.'

2) Patriarchy

Patriarchy, literally meaning 'rule of father' is another major obstacle in way of women's political participation. Male, being head of family, has veto power regarding women's choice in political.

Day: _____

3) Economic dependence of male women are traditionally and often dependent on her father, husband or brother for money in Pakistani society. In such scenario, she has been denied the agency to act independently. Women can't take participation in politics with financial and moral support of family.

Date: _____

Day: _____

Impacts of quota-system

i) Empower women Participation

Women's quotas ensure participation of women in elected offices They get a platform to prove their political credentials.

For example; Fehmida Rizvi, Hina Rabbani Kher
and Maryam Nawaz Sharif are examples of women empowerment

ii) Promoted tokenism

The bad impact of quota system is that it promoted tokenism.
Women are chosen to fill the seats of Quota. Political leaders control their choices regarding voting and decision-making. They passively not actively participate in political of the country. They don't try to win on general seats but are complacent with reserved tickets.

Conclusion:

Political participation is a fundamental political right. Women of Pakistan face many issues in political system of Pakistan. Quota-system has both pros and cons.
