

History is filled with those successful people who started their life in difficult situation, but in future they added in successful and honorable personalities in the world. Success, respect and popularity can not be given you in the plate, just money can be given you in the plate. One condition is mandatory for this, your parents ~~are~~ must ~~be~~ have be property, then you could ~~have~~ be property owner - you can buy world's things from money but can not buy happiness from it. Sometimes a human takes centuries to earn respect, disrespect can earn in a second.
