Q1) The ignorance of art and the unwillingness to engage in creating or recognize it are the main ideas lamented in the text.

Q2) An ordinary man fails to see the beauty in art, treating it as an ornament to life. He does not find value in it or recognize it. An artist, on the other hand, understands the value of another artist's work, recognizes art in all forms and the beauty that permeates from it.

Q3) Our lives can be made beautiful and charming by pursuing art and understanding the value it holds, as well as the nature of the beauty innate to various forms of art.

Q4) When he says "Beauty is not an ornament to life", the author implies that beauty is a part of life and is embedded into all things, both natural and man-made. It is not something we can simply discard as we like.

Q5) Yes, I agree that beauty impacts our morals and practical life as it offers us new perspectives and ways to perceive art as a whole.
