History is filled with such successful people who began their life with extremely difficult circumstances but later on they were counted in world's successful and famous personalities.

Success, honour and reputation is ~~not~~ never served ~~you~~ in a plate, only wealth could be served in a plate but a condition is required for this as well that your ancestors <sup>must</sup> have property, only then you can have wealth. You can buy worldly necessities with wealth but not happiness. Sometimes human ~~spend~~ <sup>spend</sup> decades in earning honour but a moment is enough to earn disgrace or become a subject of dispute.
