

Rimsha Noreen

History is filled with those people who started their life in extremely difficult conditions. But ^{later, they} later were counted among successful and eminent personalities of the world. Success, respect and fame can not be purchased only wealth can be. For this, there must be a condition that your ancestors must ^{have} had property then ^{inherited} wealth would be purchased. You buy materialistic things from money but cannot buy happiness. Sometimes decades pass to earn respect but it takes only one second to ruin it.